PRESS RELEASE

The Distributors Partners with Trax Distribution to Expand Customer Access

The Distributors are pleased to announce a new partnership with Trax Distribution, strengthening our ability to connect customers across Australia with an even broader range of products and solutions, including greater access to tobacco products and accessories through our national wholesale network.

The partnership is focused on providing greater choice and easier access for our customers. By working with Trax Distribution, we can connect customers with additional brands and categories while maintaining the convenience of working through their existing local wholesaler.

For our customers, this means more choice, greater flexibility and access to an expanded range without the need to establish multiple new supply relationships.

The partnership further strengthens The Distributors' commitment to connecting suppliers, retailers and businesses through a truly national distribution network.
